Saluting the Nation on the 70th Republic Day

From the Principal's Desk

We have already stepped on to the new year with new resolutions and new dreams. With the beginning of each new year, the mind unconsciously gets involved in a mental audit of the past year, its accomplishments as well as unfulfilled expectations. I am sure you all would also be undergoing mental musings and may be looking forward to have a better and more fulfilling new year. While it is time to move ahead and make new beginnings for the self, do not forget to carry with yourself the learnings of the past because one of the most rewarding things about the past is that it either motivates you with each successful experience or makes you wiser with each failure.

From institutional point of view also, we had a fulfilling year in terms of organization of many academic events including one national and four international conferences/workshops, smooth conduction of exams and overwhelming performance of the students in academics and sports. However, our dreams are bigger than our achievements and so we will continue to march towards attainment of excellence in various spheres in this new year also. I am hopeful of everyone's support this year too in the academic journey and wish you all success in achievement of your professional as well as personal goals.

Happy and a prosperous new year to all again!!!

Ignite Talks

Success Story of Siddharth Jain

Siddharth Jain had been a student of Bachelor of Commerce at Subodh College, Rambagh Circle, Jaipur. As any other student, he never knew that this was a golden key to his successful future. We recently had a talk with him and learnt about his journey to success

Q. How would you like to introduce yourself?

My name is Siddharth Jain. I am from Sawai Madhopur, Rajasthan. I did my graduation in Commerce from S. S. Jain Subodh P. G.

College in the year 2011. Professionally, I am a Chartered Accountant (2012) and a Company Secretary (2014). I had worked in a Central PSU for 4 years before being selected in UPSC Civil Services Exam 2017 with All India Rank 11. I have been allocated Indian Administrative Services, Madhya Pradesh cadre.

Q. When did you decide to pursue career in civil services and how did you achieve it?

I was very clear right from my school days that I wanted to make a career in civil services. My grandfather always told me to aspire as high as possible and stay humble and rooted. In terms of career, I was mainly convinced by my father why civil services is a good choice over others. While working, I got the opportunity to interact with District administration, which further strengthened my resolve. Hence, the aim was set during my school days itself as far as career was concerned.

For achieving the aim, I got into contact with seniors who made me aware of the exact demands of exam. I did preparation, which was a mix of smart and hard work. I would brainstorm and think of my own solutions to the problems. I kept on attempting the exam, unperturbed by initial failures till the time I made it into the list.

Q. Do you have any other dream/ goal in life?

Civil Services along with prestige also sets huge challenges and expectations of citizens. Presently, I will focus on doing my work dutifully and meet the expectations of people and contribute whatever positive I can contribute in governance. Haven't thought of any other dream as of now.

Q. What role did Subodh College play in your life?

My first interface with higher education was with Subodh College. The infrastructure, pedagogy and ecosystem in the college is par excellence.

I fondly remember the time spent in the rich library of the college and hours long conversations with friends in the canteen. Getting into Subodh college, studying here and earning friends has been an important milestone of my journey.

I hope this institution will carry the legacy with more glory in the times to come and maintain the ethos of quality education with affordability.

Q. Which "Success mantra" would you like to share with the students?

Trusting oneself and believing in one's own abilities is the key to success. The world today is not of first movers but fast movers. One should learn things quickly and apply them even faster. If you are reading about something, read what the best person in that field is writing. Try to get into his/her zone.

Lastly have a positive approach in life. It makes things simpler.

Best of Luck!!!

I am a Woman

Dr. Divya Walia
Department of English

I am a woman, I feel special to be one
My dreams are neither big nor high
But they are woven with intense passion
They lend me wings to fly and soar high

I am a woman, I am different
I am not dying to do what all men do
I just believe in being equal in spirit
In freedom to do whatever I choose

I am a woman, I am proud and glad
I have a heart that sings out of joy
But pain of others makes me sad
I shed tears but I have the strength of an alloy

Growing Up : Achievement of Goals and Time Management

Rajshree Sharma
Department of Business Administration

Life is full of different kinds of people with varied interests, aptitude and attributes. Some have their goals and some don't have a vision of what they want in their life. If we talk about the goal-driven person, his/her real friend is his/her schedule. When we first sit down and start to define goals, it seems like a difficult and daunting task, but as we start taking steps, it begins to get much easier. Everything is necessary in life as family, friends and society, but the real necessity of you is you! You-Yourself!. You have to respect, value and appraise your time. If you don't, no one else will. There are many people who ask you to meet or to have some fun on either Saturday or Sunday just because of the simple fact that it is a weekend. They are the saboteurs and simply want you to be a part of their fun, but the decision depends on our priorities. As we grow up, our priorities should be changed, night outs should be swapped for night ins, our circle should get smaller. Games, drama and partying every weekend loses the element of fun, since there should be quality in fun, not quantity. Like our career, faith, relationships, home and family, there should be something that gives us satisfaction and peace, something that's ours, something that's real, something we are proud of. Only time management can help one achieve not only one's goals but also the satisfaction in life.

The Battle of Chamkaur Sahib

Anu Malhotra
Department of Chemistry

*Chidiyanaal main baajladawa, Giddranto main sherbanawa
Sawa lakh se ekladawa, Tab Gobind Singh naamdharawa*

The city of Anandpur Sahib was founded by Guru Tegh Bahadur, the ninth Sikh Guru and it prospered and flourished under the leadership of the tenth Guru, Guru Gobind Singh. He established the Khalsa Panth there in 1699. Emperor Aurangzeb feared that the meteorical rise of the Khalsa would threaten his supremacy and ordered his Governor Wazir Khan to destroy Anandpur Sahib. The Hindu Rajas and the Muslims sided with Wazir Khan and cut off supplies to the city leading to starvation. Aurangzeb sent a message to the Guru, assuring him of a safe passage if he left the city. The guru realised it was a trap but he had no choice. They were ambushed by the Mughals and in the course of the battle, two of his sons (Sahebzade) accompanied him and remaining two got separated and went with Mata Gujri Devi, the Guru's mother. The Guru and 40 of his followers took shelter in a fort at Chamkaur Sahib and resolved to fight till the last drop of blood. They were hopelessly outnumbered by the Mughals who were 10 lakhs in number. At that point of time, Guru Gobind Singh uttered the above words...one sikh is equal to 1.25 lakh Mughals. His sons fought valiantly but were martyred. Guruji was forced to escape with five of his followers.

Meanwhile, a former servant of Guruji's household gave shelter to Mata Gujri and two younger Sahebzade but later on disclosed their location to Wazir Khan who offered to save their lives if they converted to Islam. When the boys who were only seven and nine years old refused, the Governor ordered them to be bricked alive. Their grandmother passed away on hearing this tragic news. Gurudwara Fatehgarh Sahib stands at the spot of the martyrdom.

There is no parallel to the martyrdom of such young boys in the annals of human history. On hearing this news, Guru Gobind Singh wrote a beautiful letter Zafarnama to Aurangzeb-"It matters little if a jackal through cunningness and treachery succeeds in killing two lion cubs; for the lion himself lives to inflict retribution on you".

Such is the glory of the Sikh faith!

Legacy of Chattrapati Shivaji

Dr. Kapil Kumar Anand
Department of Political Science

Very few of us know that there is a statue of Chattrapati Shivaji Maharaj in Vietnam. He is worshipped as a great warrior in a country which is thousands of miles away from India. When the Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh was asked about the reason for this respect, he said that, "It was impossible for Vietnam to defeat the superpower America in a long drawn war (1954-1975) but during the war I read the biography of a brave king from India -Shivaji. We adopted his guerrilla warfare which he had used against the Mughals and achieved victory. Had this great king been born in our country, we would have ruled the world!".

President Ho Chi Minh had a great regard for Shivaji Maharaj so much so that he had instructed his officers to write on his (President) tombstone, "Amaval (soldier) of Shivaji Maharaj is laid to rest here". That sentence can be seen even today.

Years later, Vietnamese Foreign Minister visited India and was taken to see the Red Fort and the Samadhi of Mahatma Gandhi. The Indian officers accompanying her were surprised when she insisted on visiting the Samadhi of Shivaji Maharaj. She was taken to Raigad in Maharashtra where she first paid respect and then collected the soil and put it in her purse with a lot of devotion. When the press asked her about this, she said, "This is the soil of great warriors. A great king like Chattrapati was born here. After going back I will mix this soil with the soil of Vietnam so that great valiant leaders will be born even in my country".

Such is the legacy of Chattrapati Shivaji...
